CERTIFICATES.

Scituate, March 12, 1836.

I was afflicted six years with Dispepsia. No physicians nor medicines gave me relief—I suffered much, and was reduced very low—a friend of mine recommended to me the Jelly of Pomegranate I bought two bottles, and used one and two thirds of another, and I am entirely cured—it is now three months since, and have had no ill turn.

HANNAH LITCHFIELD.

Cohasset, March 13, 1836. My child, a girl six years old, was afflicted with a humor ever since two years of age, and it began to be very troublesome, principally on the head and face. I bought the Jelly Pomegranate and Salt Rheum Ointment, prepared by Dr Gordak, used it according to his directions, and in one week my child was cured—it is now six months since, and no humor has appeared again.

WM. BROWN.

Boston, Nov. 12, 1836. Two months before I applied to Dr Gordak, was taken with a Cough, attended with a dull head ache—the cough kept growing worse—a shortness of breath appeared, and I kept losing flesh very fast—in short it was alarming. I applied to Dr Gordak—he gave me two kinds of medicine—the Jelly of Pomegranate, and Pulmonary Jelly—I took the medicine according to his directions, and received immediate relief—in the course of 14 days I was entirely cured. NELSON F. ROBY.

Boston, Nov. 12, 1836. I was subject to canker in the stomach, throat and mouth about a year since—it troubled me very much—I was recommended to make use of the Jelly of Pomegranate and Pills, prepared by Dr Gordak. I used the medicine with astonishing success—in five or six days I was entirely cured, and ever since have been free of canker. I really think there is no medicine for canker equal to the Jelly Pomegranate. ELIZABETH L. MERRITT.

Boston, July 4, 1836. Dr Gordak, Sir: I cannot help acknowledging my gratitude to you for the cure I received, in the use of your Jelly Pomegranate and Pills. My disease was a universal weakness—I was so low that I was unable to walk out of the house, and continued to grow weaker every day. I used your Jelly Pomegranate and Pills with such success, that in one week I was entirely cured.

JOHN BURNS.

Dorchester, Nov. 6, 1836. I have for several years been afflicted with a humor, which was very troublesome—about 6 months ago I was advised to call on Dr Gordak—he recommended to me the Jelly of Pomegranate and Salt Rheum Ointment, which I used according to his directions, and in a short time I was entirely cured, which I can fully testify.

SARSAPARILLA

READ, REFLECT, DECIDE.—The virtues of Sarsaparilla have been celebrated for more than two hundred years, during which long period it has been in more or less repute—every thing, however, depends upon its mode of preparation, and unless taken in considerable quantities, and persevered in for some time, it is perfectly useless. When properly prepared and administered, it is a sovereign remedy in Rheumatic affections, Scrofula, and all cutaneous complaints, such as obstinate eruptions of the skin, pimples, or pustules on the face, biles which arise from an impure habit of body, scaly eruptions, syphilitic complaints, mercurial diseases, ulcers, diseases of the liver, general debility, and all impurities of the blood. The truth of these remarks have all been tested and declared, by some of the most eminent French and English chemists and physicians—among the former are Lavoisien, Chaptal, Peletier, and others, of Paris, and among the latter, Sir Astley Cooper, Sir John Home, Abernethy, and Letsom, in London.

Wallace's Concentrated Syrup of Sarsaparilla, now offered to the public, contains not only the virtues of his particular article, but also that far famed wood, called the Wood of Kife, and among other important additions, forming altogether that well known composition under the name of Liscon Diet Drink, a medicine peculiarly calculated for the complaints above enumerated. The manner of preparing the Sarsaparilla by Dr. Wallace, having been made known to Dr. Harrington, Dr. Smith, Dr. Parker, Dr. Goodrich, Dr Adams, and Dr. Carter, of the different cities in the U. States they have evinced their approbation of it, by invariably prescribing it to their patients, and recommending it to their professional brethren; all doubts and cavils therefore upon the superior merits of this composition must cease forever, but in order to satisfy the most incredulous, the particular mode of preparation is here subjoined, by which it will be perceived that it is of four times the strength of any ever before sold, it behooves the purchaser therefore to look well to that fact and purchase only of the proprietor's sole Agent, at the Druggist store corner of Milk and Bath streets, directly opposite Pearl street, where, for more than two years, it has met with the greatest approbation.—Price $1 a junk bottle, or six for $5—each bottle sealed with the initials of the Proprietor.

Mode of Preparation. In addition to the strongest decoction of the root, there is also subjoined, the costly extract of Sarsaparilla, and the fluid extract, the former prepared by Mandee, Weaver & Mandee, of Wolveshampton, the greatest Chemists in England, and the latter a well known Chemist in America.

☞ Remember the place of sale, at the Druggist store corner of Milk and Bath streets, opposite Pearl st.

N. B. The above preparation is the very best medicine which can be used during, and on the approach of Spring.

ORIGINAL POETRY.

TO A BANK NOTE.

[Parody on Mrs Sigourney's—"Shred of Linen."]

Would they paid specie!—Here 's a little strip
Of this bank paper.—'T is a vile reproach
To all good banking; and right glad am I,
That no proud merchant, train'd in ancient times
Of specie currency, and speckless honor
In paying punctually his bill or note
In legal currency, is present now.
With proud contemptuous look, he straight would say,
"This comes of over-trading";—or some one,
Prudent and economic, slow and safe,
Content with moderate profits, would exclaim,
"This comes of speculation." Well, ah well.—
Come forth, offender!—Hast thou ought to say?
Canst thou, by merry thought or quick conceit,
Repay the risk that I have run for thee?

Let 's trace thy pedigree, and see what claim
To proud respect and lofty pride of place
Is thine,—whence thy descent,—what public service
Has stampt thy form with arrogated worth,
Beyond the plainer daughters of thy race.
I see thy stalk, in Russia's boreal fields,
Cloth'd in rich green, and crown'd with fragrant bloom;—
I see the fatal blade, which lays it low,
To die and wither in the parching sun;—
I see the heavy brake crush its dry bones,
And the sharp hatchel-tooth divide its flesh
Into long hempen fibres.—These I see
Spun into cords, and these again confin'd
And tortur'd in the loom, till, closely bound
And firmly knit, a curious web appears,
Hight duck, and destin'd to become the wings,
That waft the freighted bark across the main.
Or else, perchance, some sailor's keen edg'd knife
And pointed needle, into pantaloons
Transforms the web, a more degraded lot.

Next I behold a torturing machine,—
Like that, which in the inquisition's cells
Racks and divides the bleeding, quivering flesh
Of the poor heretic,—cut, tear, and grind
The hempen fabric to a pulpy mass,
Mix'd with the stream. Thence, as by magic touch,
Springs a new form, a fabric smooth and thin,
Hight paper. This the mighty conjurer,
PERKINS yclept, or other kindred wight,
Stains with rude characters and mystic signs,
Wondrous, and all replete with magic power.
Then comes that other cunning master sprite,
Empower'd by Pluto, god of ruling gold,
Arm'd with a wand, of sacred plume compos'd,
Torn from the penon of that silly bird,
Which once, 't is said, th' eternal city saved.
He, with light touch, a secret power imparts
To the dark scrawl; and lo, to every eye,
Presto, the paper is transform'd to gold,—
Or such it seems. Alas, 't is only seems;
'Tis nothing real. I attempt to taste
Thy beauteous fruit, and ashes it becomes:—
"I grasp the phantom, and I find it air."

Is this not true? Say, thou deceptive form,
Whence and what art thou? Have I rightly said,
And traced thy pedigree, thy birth, thy origin,
Thy office, and thy end? Still close and mute?—
Wilt tell no secrets, ha?—Well then, go down,
Mysterious, magic being, false as fair,
Deceitful sprite, meet emblem of thy sire!—
In mockery and mystery, go down
Once more into that purifying font,
Whence thou didst rise, and once again
Stainless and smooth emerge. Happy shall be
The renovation, if on thy fair page
Wisdom and truth their hallowed lineaments
Trace for posterity. So shall thine end
Be better than thy birth, and safety dwell,
Where ruin now, and desolation reign. S. H. L.

Thunder and Lightning.—Do n't be alarmed—we are only going to tell you what the editor of the Washington, Tenn. Republican says about showers. During his residence at the South, he was led to examine into the causes of thunder showers occurring more frequently in one place than another, and arrived at the conclusion that it was owing to the location being near the junction of two streams of water. He says—"we have noticed a cloud, particularly about the hour of 3 P. M. rising and following a stream from the N. W., and in a short time, another would make its appearance in the West, and like the first, follow a stream until near its junction with the other, when the clouds would approximate near enough to discharge the fluid from one to the other, and finally become wholly united; when the rain would fall in torrents, accompanied by the most vivid flashes of lightning, for the space of an hour or two, while the fluid has been frequently seen playing on the points of the Franklin's."

Evangelical Preaching.—"How much hypocrisy and delusion is generated by the exaggerated representations of the evangelical preachers, on the subject of human depravity, it is almost needless to observe. We say hypocrisy; for the person who brands himself as an abandoned sinner, without the direct consciousness of specific definite sins, is a hypocrite almost in an equal degree with him who pretends to virtues which he does not possess. What can be more offensive to sound religious feeling, than to see some silly creature impressed with the necessity of seeing his 'lost and perishing state by nature'—as the phrase is—forthwith working himself artificially into a phrenzy—tasking himself with sins which neither he nor any other person could specify—then suddenly passing from a depressed to an excited state of spirits, finding himself saved—a saint—one of God's people; and on the strength of these morbid raptures, looking down on persons who all their life have only been making or attempting to make, a gradual progress in holiness and virtue!"—Ed. Review.

A Hard Case.—A few evenings since as one of the acteurs belonging to the Theatre d'Orleans was returning from the play, his mysterious appearance excited the suspicions of one of patrol the watch established in the lower Municipality for the protection of property from thieves and incendiaries. It seems that the man was in the habit of dressing for his nightly character at home, and returned in the same dress. For fear of soiling a splendid pair of tights in his journey home from the theatre, he had turned them wrong side out, and with a solitary sperm in his hand, and a box of patent lucifers in his hat, he was discovered by one of the aforesaid guardians, and overhauled. In turning his small clothes he unfortunately disclosed to the lynx-eyed preserver of public peace sundry parcels of cotton laid on, here and there a little, to give his pedestals a more full and finished appearance. The watchman seized him and notwithstanding the unfortunate delineator of other men's characters made every attempt to establish his own, he was taken to that vile receptacle of any thing but honest men, the Calaboose, the Charlie being firmly convinced that he had found a decided case of incendiarism. What a transition was this for the poor actor. But a few short hours before he had been an associate of dukes, kings, and princes, himself, perhaps the chief; now, he was incarcerated with thieves, pickpockets, rowdys and loafers, accused of a design of firing the devoted city, of which he himself was a member, and to which he looked for a livelihood. In the morning he was enabled to substantiate his innocence and get his discharge.—N. O. Picayune.

BOSTON MORNING POST.

MONDAY, MAY 22, 1837.

For the Boston Morning Post.

"There is no people on the face of God's earth, that is so abused, so cheated, plundered, and trampled by their rulers, as are the people of the United States."

This strong, extravagant, and ill-judged language is an extract from the remarks made by Mr Lawrence, at the meeting at Faneuil Hall, on Wednesday last, as reported by the Atlas.

It is to me a matter of deep regret, as well as surprise, that any man of Mr Lawrence's general character, should be so far carried away, by party feeling, as to make such remarks in a public assembly in the city of Boston; but I feel it to be a right, to call on Mr L. to offer something in support of the truth of his declarations. He and other gentlemen who addressed the meeting on the occasion referred to should remember that the present is not the time for harsh and indiscriminate censure of our rulers.—The public mind is already sufficiently excited, and every man, especially if he be a man of influence, is deeply responsible for the part he may take, during the present trying posture of our affairs; and a desire to make a popular harrangue in Faneuil Hall, should tempt no man from the strict line of duty.

The people of the United States are said to be abused, cheated, plundered and trampled upon, to a degree that has no parallel among the nations of the earth. Is this true? Is there the least foundation, in fact, for the charge? Or is it mere hollow, bombastic railing? Has anything been required of any man, but that he should conform to the laws of the land; or, is there any thing harsh, or arbitrary in the manner of exacting obedience? Let the laws of April, 1816, and 1836, in regard to the currency, in which debts due to the government, are to be paid, answer the question. If, then, we find in the statute book, laws that expressly command all that is required of the citizen, by our rulers, shall we still say that we are abused, cheated, plundered, and trampled upon by our rulers? Do our rulers make the laws? Every body knows that the power is originally with the people, and that the laws are made by those to whom we have delegated the power. The laws, therefore, under which we live, and upon which we are pouring such indiscriminate censure, are, in fact, laws of our own enactment. The rulers, as they are called, are merely executive officers. No discretionary power is left for them to exercise. They are bound by their oaths of office, as well as by their official stations, to see that the laws are faithfully executed; and they have attempted nothing more. This every man of common understanding ought to know, and every honest man ought to admit. Is the order from the Treasury to the Collectors of the ports, or from the Postmaster General to the Post Offices, in regard to specie payments, a violation of the laws of the land? Or are their acts in strict obedience to the laws, and in conformity to their oaths of office? Nothing is more easy, than to denounce an officer of the government, or a private individual, and to heap upon him the foulest, and most abusive epithets. But such a course of conduct, where the party charged is not in fault, but is walking in the strict line of duty—and indeed would be justly charged with neglect of duty, were he to pursue any other course—is highly reprehensible, and can find no apology in any calm reflecting mind. The present is peculiarly a time, when popular feeling needs to be calmed and soothed; rather than excited by men whose calm and dispassionate conduct, in other times, has given them an influence, that may be employed at the present time, to the great detriment of society. From the editor of the Atlas we expect nothing better than what we here caution better men against. The Leopard cannot change his spots. A corrupt fountain can never send forth pure water. *

☞ We copy the following remarks relative to the adjournment of the New York Legislature, the stoppage of Specie Payments by the Banks, &c., from the Albany Argus of Wednesday:—

"The Adjournment.—The legislature of this state adjourned sine die, at one o'clock this afternoon.

The session has been one of great length, the longest, save that of 1836, since the organization of the government. The number of laws passed is unusually great; but there are few of any public importance. These consist of the act accepting the U. States surplus deposites, the modified repeal of the restraining law, the act to change the mode of appointing bank commissioners, the modification of the usury law, the act authorising a loan of the government deposite moneys, the act to regulate the distribution of bank stock, the act concerning the sale of real estate by mortgage, and finally the last and most material of the public enactments, the act to suspend the penal provisions of law for a twelve month, in relation to the suspension of specie payments by the banking institutions of the state.

This last act, which the extraordinasy events of the past week rendered imperative, in order to rescue the business interests of the state and the banking institutions from impending ruin, was a source of anxious solicitude, but was finally passed with great unanimity in both houses. Much as the occasion for such a law was regretted, its adoption under the circumstances became literally a matter of indispensible necessity. As such it will be viewed, we do not doubt, by the people. But we trust that no considerations, on their part or on the part of the banks, will induce them to sanction a departure from a course that shall ensure a return to specie payment at the earliest practicable moment.

The session has been characterised by at least three peculiar features. The bank investigation, the repeal of bank charters, and the refusal to add a dollar to the banking capital of the State. That the investigations, under the circumstances in which they have been pursued, the agitated and depressed state of the money market, and the consequent excitability of the public mind, have resulted in evil as well as good, is not to be denied. They have probably contributed to the prevalent pecuniary difficulties, and have created for the time-being, and until dispelled by the report of the committee, suspicions and doubts in relation to all the incorporated banks, however sound and well conducted. They have, however, detected and corrected abuses, and in this respect will produce a salutary effect, both in relation to the banks and the interests of the community.

Among the propositions of public importance, which have been more or less the subject of discussion during the session, and which have failed, are the bills in relation to limited partnerships, a general bank law, and the appropriation of the income arising from the surplus deposites. The two former bills are of the less moment, under the important events which marked the close of the session; since during the continuance of a suspension of specie payments it is not probable that either would be operative to any great extent. The failure of the latter is a matter of general regret, as well to the interests of the common schools as to those of the higher and proportionably deserving institutions of learning."

The Law of Copy-right.—The Editor of the Southern Literary Journal intimates and argues that Congress has not the power, under the Constitution of the United States, to extend the copy-right privilege to foreign authors.

☞ The firm and upright course pursued by the PRESIDENT, the Secretary of the Treasury, and the Postmaster General, at this embarrassing crisis in the affairs of the nation, is honorable in the highest degree to their intelligence, integrity and resolution. They have evinced a just sense of their official duties and responsibilities, and have not shrunk from a discharge of them; while, in all their acts, an anxiety has been manifested to alleviate the distresses of their fellow-citizens, which has shown that they felt them as deeply, and regretted them as sincerely, as any individuals in the community. Upon all occasions, we repeat, have our public officers expressed the most earnest solicitude to relieve, as far as it laid in their power, the misfortunes which weigh upon the land; and although party malice may now misrepresent their wishes and their conduct, THE PEOPLE OF THE NATION will do them justice, while they brand with infamy their calumniators. The mighty current of DEMOCRACY is not to be turned by the little sticks and straws with which federalism is trying to impede its course; and while they think that their feeble barriers have accomplished their purpose, the great flood is only gathering new strength to sweep away, and to bury, all that opposes its resistless torrent.

Democratic Legislative Meeting.—A meeting was held in the Assembly Chamber at Albany, N. Y. on Monday evening, 15th inst. of the Democratic Members of the Legislature. Thomas Armstrong, was called to the chair, and Messrs. Livingston and Maison of the Senate, were appointed Secretaries. Mr. Edwards of the Senate reported an able address to the Democratic Electors of the State of New York. Mr. T. W. Tucker reported several spirited Resolutions, which with the address were adopted, and signed by about 120 of the Members of both Houses. We shall publish the proceedings to-morrow, if possible.

The government drafts on the deposite banks at Natchez were refused payment, and protested, the 3d of May; and the banks in that place stopped specie payment on the 4th.

The State Bank at Montgomery, Alabama, has suspended; and a meeting of citizens in Mobile have recommended a similar measure to the banks in that city.

The Banks in Montreal suspended specie payments on Monday week. So it appears that the troubles of the present crisis are shared by our neighbors in common with ourselves.

The Norwalk Democrat says that people are now going to work again, instead of calculating and speculating. Where men last year would walk, and talk, and chalk out "valuable building lots," we now see them busily occupied in ploughing, and sowing that which will bring forth abundance. We can safely assert that there never was more ground put under cultivation in this county than at the present time. Farming is all the go now.

☞ The Governor of Virginia has issued his proclamation requiring the Legislature of the State to convene on the 12th of June. The Governor assures the people of the State that the banks are solvent, and that the suspension of specie payments has not resulted from any loss, but is adopted only as a measure of precaution.

The New York Commercial Advertiser acknowledges that the Secretary has done all in his power to relieve the distress of the merchants.

Love and fury.—The Rutherford Gazette contains an account of a singular divorce case, recently decided against the wife, in the Superior Court, Yancy county, N. C. The plaintiff was a simple-minded youth, named John Wilson, who had been wedded to Elizabeth Rey, scarce two moons, before he discovered that he had "caught a Tartar." In his petition for the divorce, he avers that he "was young and inexperienced when he married her, and not acquainted with her true character; and that her conduct was insupportable, and by him could not be endured." To this Elizabeth rejoined, that Wilson had known her from infancy, and was fully acquainted with her character and circumstances, and that she had been to him a most affectionate wife; and, moreover, when he separated himself from her faithful bosom, he told her that he never loved her, but was induced to marry her, by his friends, merely for her property, and after trying the experiment, he had ascertained that he could not enjoy life with a woman he did not love. A very great discovery, certainly; and a caution to fortune-hunters! The Gazette says that the evidence fully sustained the petition, but the nature of it is not stated. No doubt she trained him like a drill-sergeant, but whether she made him get up first, and kindle the fire mornings, hang out the clothes-line on washing-days, sugar his own tea, or blow the candle out nights, is not specified. Something of this sort was no doubt proved, for the jury, after a few minutes consultation, granted the divorce.

Elizabeth, who was in court, and took a deep interest in the trial, was not prepared for this decision, and when it was announced she turned ghastly pale; then reviving, she carelessly asked a gentleman to lend her a penknife, and, after feeling its edge, with flashing eyes, she suddenly sprang forward, and endeavored to cut her husband's throat. A lady, who held back her arm, next become the object of her rage, after she had thrown the knife at her husband. She was soon seized by the officers, and committed to jail, and the next day gave bonds to keep the peace twenty months. The Gazette adds, that all who witnessed her conduct "agreed that she must have loved her husband." Affectionate creature! Such a demonstration of female fondness is probably what Rosalind alludes to when she speaks of being "in the very wrath of love."

Just as we said—the Mount Washington House is to be the crack hotel of the season—we did all we could to save the Tremont, but Boyden wouldn't listen to us—he said he didn't care a fig for the Post or its admonitions, so here is the consequence—Col. Stone, who has been all over the Montreal Nunnery, where Maria Monk never was, and has nominated Daniel Webster for the Presidency, talks in this manner about the

"Mount Washington House.—Those who have visited Boston within a year, will not want to be informed where Mount Washington House is situated. Those who have not, and who are desirous of passing a few weeks during the summer, in one of the most delightful situations in the country, will accomplish their object by going to South Boston, where they will find a house named as above, on the heights, and close to the fortifications thrown up by Washington, when the British fleet was in Boston harbor. This house has been built and furnished by a company, at an expense of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. It commands a magnificent view of Boston, the beautiful villages for many miles around, and the noble expanse of Boston harbor, with its numerous islands. The house is kept by Mr. Ford, formerly of the Pavilion at Saratoga, in a manner which must give entire satisfaction to those who may take up their quarters under his roof. There is a line of handsome and convenient coaches, that run every half hour between Mount Washington and the old state house in Boston."

Forrest is believed to have relinquished his engagement at Drury Lane Theatre. The cause is not known, but it is supposed that Bunn has been saucy. The papers, by the way, report that Mr Forrest is to be married to the daughter of Sinclair, the vocalist. Other papers give a contradiction of this, as if from authority, but the Times of yesterday again mentions the report, and in a positive manner. So says the Foreign Correspondent of the New York Star.

OFFICIAL.

CIRCULAR TO COLLECTORS OF THE CUSTOMS AND RECEIVERS OF PUBLIC MONEYS.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
May, 1837.

SIR: You will receive enclosed the blank form in which the Treasurer of the United States will, hereafter, issue his drafts in convenient sums for payments to the creditors of the Government, and for advances made, in pursuance of law, to disbursing officers, with the signature of the Treasurer and Register written on its face for information as to their hand writing.

The warrants on which these drafts may be issued, will be retained in possession of the Treasurer, and the drafts will be directed for payment, either to a cashier of a bank, a collector of the customs, or a receiver of public moneys, as the convenience of the service may require. For greater safety, notice will be given by the Treasurer, to the bank, collector, or receiver, on whom they shall be drawn, stating the date, number and amount of each draft drawn on them respectively, and also the name of the person or persons in whose favor they issue.

If the drafts on the banks be not seasonably discharged on presentment, the collectors and receivers are requested to redeem them by receiving them in payment for duties or public lands; provided that before they shall be received by any such collector or receiver, a certificate that they have been properly presented to the bank and not paid, shall be furnished. This certificate shall be given on the back of them by the cashier of the bank on which they are drawn; or, on his failure to give such certificate, or his signature not being known or verified to the collector and the receiver, the Treasurer of the United States, on a return of the checks to him, and his being convinced by any evidence that the bank declines to pay them in a manner satisfactory to the holder, will himself make a certificate thereon, which will justify the above named officers in taking them up in the manner before described.

The drafts so received by you, will immediately be cancelled by a cross with ink on their face, and a hole cut through the centre of them. Retaining a schedule of the numbers and amount of each, you will then transmit them, weekly, to the Treasurer of the United States; and the officers by whom they were taken up will, on their receipt by the Treasurer, obtain credits in their accounts with the United States, for the amount of such as are correct. You will also return to him, weekly, a statement of the gross amount of checks taken up, and of the gross amount of money on hand.

The banks on which these checks are drawn, if paying them, will be expected to act in a similar manner as to cancelling and returning them weekly to the Treasurer.

LEVI WOODBURY,
Secretary of the Treasury.

CIRCULAR.

FROM THE SOLICITOR OF THE TREASURY TO UNITED STATES ATTORNEYS.

OFFICE OF THE SOLICITOR OF THE TREASURY,
May 15, 1837.

SIR: You will perceive, by the letter of the Secretary of the Treasury to the collector of the port of New York, under the date of the 8th instant, that the Treasury Department, desiring, in concurrence with the views of the President, to give all the relief to the mercantile community under its present state of general embarrassment, which is authorised by law, and permitted by official obligation, has determined, in certain cases, to suspend for a short time the collection of duty bonds.

The fifth section of the act of May 29, 1830, entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of a Solicitor of the Treasury," gives power to that officer "to instruct district attorneys in all matters and proceedings appertaining to suits in which the United States is a party, or interested." This power has often on application to this office, in cases of great hardship, embarrassment, or insolvency, been exercised, to give time for payment after the institution of suit, on condition of further security being furnished to the satisfaction of the district attorney. A temporary indulgence on this, or other conditions, has frequently made ultimate payment secure, when a rigorous enforcement of the law would have resulted in the ruin of the debtor, and loss of the debt. But indulgence has never heretofore, except on occasion of the great fire in New York, when Congress was in session, and had the subject of relief under consideration, been extended before suit commenced, though under the opinion of this office, with the sanction of the Attorney General, the collector of New York has been informed by the Secretary of the Treasury that the power exists to grant delay before suit, and will now be extended in appropriate cases.

The present general embarrassment of the money concerns of the commercial cities has also been deemed by the President and Secretary of the Treasury, a suitable occasion for an extraordinary exercise of the power of instruction to District Attorneys, vested in this office by the act of Congress above mentioned, by giving it beforehand, and leaving its special application to them on the general terms and principles laid down by this office. I have, therefore, as the applications for relief will probably be numerous, thought proper to point out for your government, the terms and conditions on which, in the exercise of a sound discretion, after obtaining in each case all the information in your power, you may postpone the institution of suit.

1st. You will require that the assent of sureties, in writing to the indulgence desired be filed in writing in your office.

2d The 65th section of the general collection law of the 2d March 1799, entitled "An act to regulate the collection of duties on imports and tonnage," provides that "on all bonds, upon which suit shall be commenced, an interest shall be allowed at the rate of six per centum per annum, from the time when said bonds become due, until the payment thereof." You will require, therefore, the agreement of all the parties to bonds, on which suits shall be postponed, to pay the same interest as if suit were instituted.

3d. You will in no case, without further orders, grant a suspension of suit beyond the 1st day of October next, before which period Congress will have an opportunity of making such provisions as they may think proper.

4th. You will in all cases request additional security. If this cannot be given, you will require a judgment by confession as a condition of such stay of execution as you may deem expedient and proper, not to extend beyond the time above allowed for the suspension of suit.

5th. It must be a condition in all cases, that a forfeiture of all the benefits of the indulgence granted shall be incurred, whenever any one of the terms of that indulgence shall not have been complied with.

It is not intended by the third regulation that the postponement of suit should in all cases be made until the 1st October next. On the contrary, you will take care, that in the exercise of the discretion, respecting postponement of payment and suit, conferred on you by this letter, that no indulgence be granted where the parties in your judgment are able to pay without serious sacrifices. It is moreover highly desirable, when the parties have it in their power to make it, to obtain payment in part, and to stipulate for the residue in instalments of 30, 60, or 90 days—or if no part can be obtained in cash, then the whole amount to be paid in instalments of 30, 60, or 90 days. More especially should this be required when no additional security is given.

It is desirable, for the convenience of parties applying for indulgence, that they should, in proper cases, obtain it without the delay, trouble and expense of applying to this office. It is moreover obvious that the Solicitor of the Treasury, acting through the District Attorneys, who resides in the same place with the applicants, who have a personal acquaintance with them, and have a knowledge of their character and circumstances, may exercise the power for their relief, incident to his office, more judiciously than in person at Washington. The requisite authority, and the general regulations for its exercise, are therefore given you by this letter of instructions. But, altough it is highly desirable and expedient, that cases of relief should be acted on and decided at once in the places where they originate, yet important cases, not coming within those regulations, or the circumstances of which, from their peculiarity, shall in your judgment, require it, may be referred to this office, with a detailed report of all the facts and information affecting them possessed by you, or which you can collect.

You will, as heretofore, make your regular report of bonds transmitted to you by the collectors of the customs for suit, as prescribed in the first regulation for the observance of District Attorneys, in my Circular of the 27th July, 1830; and under the head of remarks, if a suspension be granted, you will state the circumstances and conditions of the suspension, and the nature and amount of the security given, the evidences of which you will retain in your possession.

In case of application for indulgence being made before the bonds become due, you may make use of the same forms of return, as in case of suit, leaving such heads blank as are not applicable, and making the report immediately after the suspension of suit is granted. Should any of the conditions on which indulgence has been granted not be fulfilled, you will immediately, without further instructions, institute such legal proceedings as the case may call for, and make report thereof to this office.

I am, very respectfully, sir,
Your most obedient servant,
V. MAXCY,
Solicitor of the Treasury.

☞ Notwithstanding the "times," Mrs. Keeley's benefit, at the Tremont, was well attended, and the performances were excellent. The "Twice Killed" indeed, was most capitally done, and created shouts of laughter. Keeley, you must give us "another," and "tuck in your South America" again.

To-night, Keeley has a varied bill for his benefit, and we advise all who are afflicted with the blues to go and cry and laugh themselves out of them. If there be a spark of sensibility, or good-nature in them, they will most assuredly do both.

Stocks on Saturday in New York.—U. S. Bank 109—Boston and Providence 106—Worcester 96. The Post says—

"There is a general improvement in the stock market to-day. Money is getting more plenty as the excitement abates.

Three of the Wall-street Banks have refused to come under the suspension law.

Country money is getting to be more abundant, and the Brokers change it for 1 a 1 1-2 per cent. discount.

The want of small change is not so pressing as heretofore, and there would be less scarcity if people would deposit their silver in the banks, so that they could accommodate bill holders with it in return. This would strengthen them and enable them to do it."

We have received dates from New Orleans of the 10th, 11th and 12th instant. The money market appeared to be in the same disastrous condition as per last reports. Cotton could be had at any price for money.

The ruin to the shippers of Cotton from New Orleans, since the 4th of March, may be estimated from the fact that fair quality cottons, which in January were sold at 8d., has been since sold as low as 4 1-2d., exclusive of expenses.

The Banks of New Orleans were hard run for specie.

Loss of brig El Dorado.—The brig El Dorado, Captain Low, which sailed from this port on the 29th ult. for Velasco, Texas, was wrecked on the 3d inst. at 2 A. M. off the Timballier Islands. There were about 76 passengers, 14 of whom reached here yesterday, to endeavor to gain relief for those left on the Island. The steamboat Orleans, which started yesterday, will stop to take them from the Island. At the time the vessel struck she was going at the rate of eight knots through the water. We learn by a gentleman who was on board, that the passengers are unanimous in the belief, that the loss of the vessel was not the result of mere accident.

Suspension of Specie Payments.—We have at last what we expected to hear every mail, an account of the suspension of the Mobile Banks. This took place on the 11th instant, and has been followed up by those of New Orleans.

From Mexico.—The New Orleans Bee contains a letter from Vera Cruz, stating that tranquility reigns throughout the Republic.

Bustamente, the new President, seemed to enjoy the popular favor, and much was expected from him. His cabinet was not yet formed.

The writer states that the war with Texes is to be renewed, backed by a loan of ten millions of dollars, two of which have been already negociated, on the faith of the Custom House revenues. The government and citizens of the United States are in bad odour with the Mexican authorities, and it was doubtful whether the United States would obtain satisfaction for the grievances they have suffered.

The Covington, La. Advocate relates the circumstances of a heart-rending occurrence which took place on the 21st ult. on West Pearl River.

Antoine Reusseau, accompanied by two children, one a son of Mrs. Moore, and the other his own daughter, proceeded down the river in a perogue for the purpose of examining some lines which he had baited for fish. After descending the river a short distance, his attention was attracted by a squirrel, on which he landed and went in pursuit, leaving the two children in the boat until his return. After hunting for some time in the thicket, he discovered something moving in the bushes, which he took for beckroach, and fired. Shocking to relate, he killed both children. He had reached the spot where he had left the children without being aware of it, and their dresses being white, caused the mistake, and the consequences so deplorable.

A Butcher's Dun.—The following note was actually sent to a creditor in New York, a few days since.

A Butcher's word for it.

Vera Cruz, April 13th.—The American schr Orient, of New London, J. Morgan, Jr. master, from this port, has been seized at the port of Goaracoalcos, by the authorities of that port—the master arrested and thrown into prison, without any just cause, as the American Consul, at Vera Cruz, was informed.

The ship John Linton, from New York for Mobile was wrecked on Orange Keys, the latter part of April. The passengers and part of the crew arrived at Mobile on the 12th inst—captain and remainder of crew had gone to Nassau. The vessel was valued at $20,000, and was insured for $18,000 in New York.

Attempted Suicide.—Yesterday morning a young married female of very respectable appearance was observed to approach one of the docks near Clinton Market, and throw herself into the river, with the evident purpose of terminating her existence by drowning. Several persons who witnessed the occurrence hastened to rescue her, and one of them plunged into the water, and, at considerable risk of his own life, succeeded in preventing her from accomplishing her purpose till, by the assistance of others, she was raised to the wharf. On being questioned as to the inciting cause of her rash attempt at self-destruction, she stated she was married, and that her husband was a mechanic; but that he had for some time past been unable to obtain employment. A few days since he left home suddenly and without giving any intimation of his intentions, and had not been seen nor heard of by her. From the depressed state of his mind for some days prior to his leaving, she entertained no doubt he had sought relief in self destruction, and under that conviction she had adopted the method of terminating at once her life and troubles. She was counselled by her preservers to a more rational resolution, conveyed to her lonely home, and the attendance of some of her relations procured for her.—N. Y. Sun.

Shocking Steamboat Disaster.—One hundred and twenty lives lost!—The steamboat Ben Sherrod, running between New Orleans and Louisville, caught fire on Monday night, 8th inst. when about 50 miles below Natchez, and near Fort Adams, on her way up the river, and in a short time was burnt up. One hundred and twenty, out of the one hundred and ninety lives on board, were lost! Mr. Smith, of the firm of Newhouse & Co. of Mobile, was on board with his lady, two children, and servant. Mrs. Smith jumped overboard with one of the children. Mr. S. immediately followed, and was so fortunate as to procure a plank, by means of which the lives of all three were preserved. They were in the water, however, about two hours, and drifted down the river a half dozen miles before they reached the shore. Mr. Smith, with his lady and the child they saved, arrived at Mobile on the 11th, and the sad information communicated by them we have in a slip from the Mobile Advertiser dated 12th inst.—Bost. Transcript.

MUNICIPAL COURT.

Acquittal of Nathaniel Low.—On Saturday morning, His Honor Judge Thacher gave a long written charge to the jury in this case. At the close he said, that if the jury were satisfied that Low supposed he had a good right of action, and that he might lawfully use the trustee process in the manner he had done, then a verdict of not guilty must be returned.

The jury were out about fifteen minutes, and returned with a verdict of Not Guilty.

Mr Parker then entered on the back of the indictment an endorsement that for the reason, that a jury had passed upon the evidence, and declared it insufficient to sustain the indictment against Low, the prosecution against Thomas A. Delano, resting upon the same evidence, was discontinued. Thus has terminated a prosecution, which has excited a great deal of feeling among "street-brokers," who operate with the funds of capitalists, who are not known to the borrower. When we first heard Mr Haynes' own statement in the Police Court, we were certain that a criminal process could never be sustained on it, and in the Report in the Post of the 24th ult. we remarked—"We should think it utterly impossible for a jury to convict the defendants." As a general rule, the Police Court does not entertain criminal suits, when there are adverse civil actions pending upon the subject matter of the complaint. Why the Court in this case departed from this judicious practice, does not appear very obvious, for it was quite as manifest, that Low had a good ground of action, under the usury law, as that he had mistaken his legal remedy, in trusteeing Delano, and arresting the notes in his possession. If every person, who attaches property upon an erroneous process, should be prosecuted as a thief, the monthly catalogue of indictments would be exceedingly increased. There is a distinction between civil and criminal suits, that jurors and the public should never lose sight of:—it is this—in the criminal suit, the private prosecutor's mouth is open in court, but the defendant's is shut.

POLICE COURT.—Great Risk for Little Gain.—A tall, strapping fellow, named Thomas Hand, was brought up, for forcibly stealing an umbrella from William Hall, as he was walking in Merrimac street, on Friday evening. Mr Hall was carrying the umbrella on his shoulder, and Hand stepped up behind him and seized it. Hall held on till the handle came off, when Hand ran off with the umbrella, but was followed by Mr H. and two other persons, till he hid himself in an arch, where he was finally discovered, although he tried to make himself as small as possible; but he could not minify his carcase, any way, and he was descried at once, in the corner. The offence he has committed is high-way robbery, and the punishment is neither more nor less than imprisonment for life in the State Prison, where he will not need an umbrella, nor even a parasol. For want of bonds for $300, he was committed. He said, that he belonged to East Cambridge

☞ The Independence got under way about 10 o'clock, on Saturday forenoon, with a fine breeze from the Southwest. The wharves were crowded with spectators to witness her departure.

Commodore Dallas, after an investigation into the causes which led to the capture of the Mexican brig Urrea, ordered her to be given up, and she has sailed from Pensacola.

☞ The New York Collector does not receive the bills of the banks of that city in payment for bonds, as has been reported.

The fire, at about 12 o'clock, on Saturday night, was in the lower part of a wooden dwelling in Ann street, which was considerably damaged.

The arbitrary and invidious distinction which the laws make to the prejudice of the importers of woollens, is now felt with the greatest severity. While those who have given bonds to the Custom House, which have already fallen due, are indulged with five months additional credit by the Secretary of the Treasury, the importers of woollens are compelled to pay cash immediately, or their goods are withheld.—*N. GREAT NATIONAL EXHIBITION.—The public are respectfully informed that the Great National Exhibition of the SIGNERS of the DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE is now open at the American Gallery, Summer st—(near Washington st.) This exhibition is not a painting. It consists of 56 figures large and natural as life, dressed in the costume of the day, and arranged as in Congress, when in '76 they signed that immortal paper which has given freedom to our country. Each figure is moulded in composition from a likeness taken at about the time the memorable act took place, by artists, procured at great expense, and bears a striking resemblance of the persons represented.

Open from 9 o'clock A. M., until 10 P. M.

☞ Admitance 25 cents—children 12½. epistf ap20

THE GENUINE MACASSAR OIL.—The merits of Macassor Oil in rendering the human hair soft, glossy, and consequently beautiful, are well known; and although too much has been said of its invigorating powers, in producing hair where baldness has already usurped the wintry sway, yet as an elegant and useful appendage to the toilet—as an eradicator of that pest to a fine head of hair, scurf and dandruff—and as a most powerful auxiliary to the embellishment of female beauty, too much cannot be said in its favor, nor can its virtues be too greatly extolled E. NOTICE TO MERCHANT TAILORS AND DRAPERS.—JOSEPH W. JENKINS proposes to relinquish his present business in the course of the ensuing spring, if the sale of his present stock of goods, and the good will of the establishment can be satisfactorily effected, to any person competent and disposed to take and carry on the business in the establishment.

For the long period of nearly forty years Mr J. has been connected with the business conducted at his present stand, during which period he has been and still continues to be favored with customers esteemed for their respectability, and valuable for their constancy and punctuality.

It is needless to say that such an opportunity of commencing or enlarging business is of rare occurrence, and promises unusual advantages to any one of skill and ability adequate to assume and carry forward the establishment

N. B J. W. J. in making the above purpose known, respectfully informs his friends and customers, that until a successor is found that he thinks will be satisfactory to them, he shall retain his stand, and continue to use his best efforts to merit and retain their patronage.

And such diseases as are caused by an impure or bad condition of the blood. It is likewise particularly recommended to those whose constitutions are broken by habits of luxury and intemperance, the injudicious use of quinine and mercury and badly cured diseases, by unskilful or neglected medical treatment, and all those whose lungs and chest are diseased by remote causes in the system.

The Arcanum has proved itself by years of experience far superior in its effects to the Panacea of Swaim Catholicon of Potter, or the French Robs. In testimony of the above statement, we refer to the opinion of Dr Sam'l L. Mitchell, of New York, Dr Jones of Baton Rouge, Dr Archer of Virginia, Dr Godman of Philadelphia, who have investigated the properties and efficacy of the article, and affirmed it as being superior to all medicines in their knowledge, for the removal of the diseases above named. Boylston, Mass. Aug. 1st, 1835.

In the year 1830 I requested Dr Phelps to visit a daughter of mine, aged about 15 years, having a distortion of the spine or back bone, and whose general health had always been feeble.

The curvature of the spine, at that time, had acquired a hopeless and singularly disfigured appearance, and the Sternum or breast bone corresponded with the distortion, presenting to the beholder a deformity calculated to excite the deepest sympathy. From the first appearance of this disease, I had solicited the most skilful of the profession, whose attendance, various prescriptions and remedies were unattended with success or benefit—in a word, the progressive march of the disease bid defiance to the ingenuity of skill, and the power of medicine.

It was under these circumstances that we commenced the use of the Arcanum, which was perseveringly administered for several months. Her general health soon began to improve, and the progress of the disease was gradually arrested by this medicine only, and the use of the salt water bath.

From this period, her strength and energies of mind and body were evidently improving, and the deformity has subsided with the growth of years. At this time, which is more than five years since, we adopted the treatment of Dr Phelps, my daughter is in the enjoyment of good health, to our astonishment and admiration. She has been a teacher or instructress for two years past.

The great demand for the Arcanum, and its remarkable effects in chronic diseases, give it the decided preference to any other medicine. See Medical Advertiser

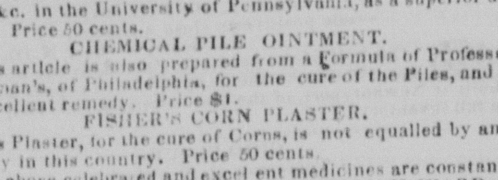
ADAMS'S PATENT



THE subscriber has on hand a good assortment of the Swelled Beam Windlass Bedsteads, which, for comfort and convenience is undoubtedly the best article yet invented. Its chief peculiarity is that of the Swelled Beam, the effect of which is to produce a crowning, and elastic sacking, and effectually provides against its saging. They are easily set up or taken down, and may be saved in case of fire as easily as any other piece of furniture, and from its mode of construction less liable to harbor insects than any other kind; but above all its advantages is the ease and comfort obtained from the sacking, by being made and kept elastic by means of the Swelled Beam, (the form of which is exhibited in the above cut.)

Orders thankfully received, and promptly attended to

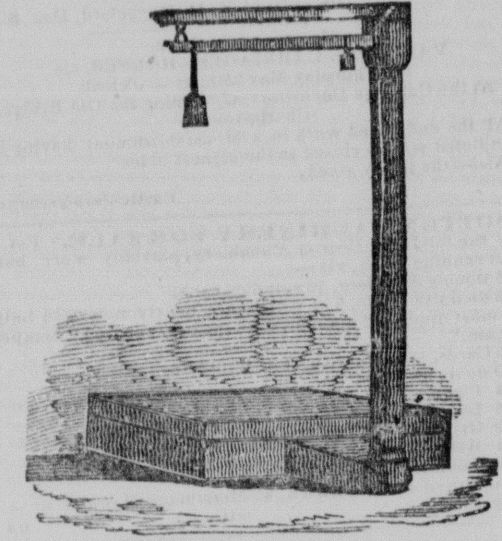
PECK'S PATENT PLATFORM BALANCE.



L. LOCKE would respectfully invite the attention of those in want of weighing apparatus, to an examination of the above, as these Balances contain several useful improvements over any other scale of the kind now in use, and for both accuracy and convenience are not surpassed by any. They have given entire satisfaction to those who have purchased, used and tested them. They are manufactured in the best manner, by experienced workmen, and warranted.

Purchasers will have the privilege of returning them after giving them a fair trial, if not satisfied with them. In introducing the above scales to the notice of the public, the subscriber would say, that it is with entire confidence that he will be able to meet the wishes and expectations of those who may favor him with their custom.

Please call and examine them at the manufactory No 3 Fulton st, (near the corner, rear of Commercial street, Boston,) where may be found, also, a good assortment of the Dearborn Patent Balances, Scale Beams, and most other kinds of weighing apparatus in use, for sale wholesale or retail, on the most liberal terms.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

AN account of that most excellent Medicine prepared at Dr Loveman's Gilead House. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sold by appointment in Boston, at D. S. ROWLAND'S, 188 Washington street, Boston.

"To administer to a mind diseased, pluck from the Memory a rooted Sorrow,
"Raze out the written troubles of the Brain, and with some sweet oblivious Antidote,
"Cleanse the foul Bosom of that perilous stuff which weighs upon the Heart."

Dr. LOVEMAN'S Balm of Gilead is universally acknowledged to be peculiarly efficacious in all inward wastings, loss of appetite, indigestion, depression of spirits, trembling or shaking of the hands or limbs, shortness of breath, and consumptive habits. It thins the blood, eases the most violent pain in the head and stomach, and promotes gentle perspiration. By the Medical Faculty this medicine is much admired being pleasant to the taste and smell, gently astringing the fibres of the stomach, and giving that proper tensity which a good digestion requires.

Dr Loveman's Balm of Gilead is recommended to the weak, the relaxed, and debilitated, as an agreeable and speedy restorative; and considered as a cordial, is essential to the comfort of ladies of fashion, being a preventive against cold, when taken before going out to parties, balls, routs or the play. It will enliven the spirits and invigorate the mind and body, and if taken after fatigue, it will with a few hours sleep, take away all languor consequent on broken rest, and give relief from every unpleasant sensation.

It is a most valuable remedy for such diseases as are attended with the following symptoms, namely—a great straitness of the breast, with difficulty of breathing—violent palpitations of the heart, sudden flusces of heat in various parts of the body—at other times a sense of cold, as if water was poured on them—flying pains in the arms and limbs, back and belly, resembling those occasioned by the gravel—the pulse very variable, sometimes uncommonly slow, at other times very quick—yawning, the hiccough, frequent sighing, and a sense of suffocation, as from a ball or lump in the throat—alternate fits of crying and convulsive laughing—the sleep unsound, and seldom refreshing, and the patient often troubled with horrid dreams. Much has been said by interested individuals against Medicines that are advertised, but there is a very important observation to be made respecting Dr Loveman's Balm of Gilead, that unless its operation was gentle safe and efficacious, it could not have obtained the unexampled demand it has acquired.

NERVOUS DEBILITY.

"Without Health we can enjoy no Fortune;
Honors, Riches, and all other advantages are useless."
HIPPOCRATES.

This Cordial has been uncommonly successful with young people who have the appearance and air of old age, who are pale, effeminate, benumbed, stupid, and even imbecile; whose bodies are become bent, whose legs are no longer able to carry them, who have an utter distaste for every thing, and are totally incapacitated. Where the stomach is frequently disordered, the body is weakened; paleness, bodily decay and emaciation succeed, and the eyes sink into the head. The virtues of Dr Loveman's Balm of Gileadare demonstrated, in eradicating the worst and most dangerous symptoms of nervous debility, and nothing has tended so much to establish the fame of this medicine, as its certain success in those complaints which strike their roots so deep in the constitution, and are so fatal to the happiness of mankind.

Dr Loveman's Balm of Gilead has risen in repute with every trial of its efficacy. Some, perhaps, unacquainted with its virtues, not having perused the Guide to Health, may be induced to ask what is the Balm of Gilead good for? What complaint doth it cure?—To answer this it will be necessary to

"Hold the Mirror up to Nature."

Let those who are afflicted in the following manner reflect on the cause that produced such havoc upon the "wholesome appetites and powers of life:"—disordered stomach, dry cough, weakness in the voice hoarseness, shortness of breath upon the least exercise, and relaxation of the whole system. Those afflicted with paleness, languor of the eyes, weakness of sight or memory, should take time to consider Linræus's advice, that "youth is the important period for forming a robust constitution," and that "nothing is to be dreaded so much as premature excess." The foundation of a happy old age is a good constitution in youth; temperance and moderation at that age are passports to happy grey hairs.

For such as have violated these precepts, then, this healing balm is suitable—complaints included in the vague appellation of Nervous and Consumptive, are those for which it is peculiarly adapted.

In offering this medicine to the public, I can say with confidence that they will find great benefit by using it in all diseases recommended, as I am fully acquainted with the medical qualities, as they have been discovered by myself, and are extracted from vegetables, and I can truly say, there is no earthly danger in using the medicine by any person, no matter how they may be afflicted. This medicine has been used by a large number of persons, and have been cured of diseases of a long standing, when all other medicines have failed. n23

THE TRUTH WILL PREVAIL.

CERTAIN DISEASES CURED.

Dr. Goodwill's Gonorrhœa and Gleet Detergent.

THE only infallible remedy ever discovered for Gonorrhœ and Gleets is now become too well known and established, in all parts of the Union, to require comment. Its universal success, which in no instance has ever failed, has warranted it to cure in forty-eight hours the most desperate and inflammatory cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleets, and whites in all their stages, strictures, Seminal Weaknesses, pains in the loins, irritation of the Uretura from Gravel, as well as chronic affections of the urinary bladder and kidneys, if ever so violent or of long standing. This safe and only infallible remedy is an agreeable liquid, and its effects long on the constitution, (being composed of Sarsaparilla and the choicest of preparations) that while it restores the system, its superiority over every other kind of medicine only requires a limited trial to know its efficacy. Every person that has made use of this medicine has been his own physician, and secrecy has been secured—having proved effectual in almost two thousand cases, and never to our knowledge failed in any instance. The vast and increasing sale from the recommendations of the highest medical characters, as well as those who have experienced its salubrious and beneficial effects, prove its great success and entire superiority over every other medicine, in being the most effectual remedy ever discovered for the cure of the above diseases, giving—muscular strength, energy and vigorous health to the whole frame. The most delicate females may take it with perfect safety. Dr Goodwill's Detergent is a safe, certain and speedy cure for the above diseases, from the most recent to the most protracted cases. It is taken without any risk, inconvenience, or suspension from business. See that your case is eradicated, not patched up by quack doctors or quack medicines. Those who make use of one single bottle may be convinced of the easy method of being cured. The "motto" of this medicine, "let every person be their own physician with secrecy." It will prevent the occurrence of the disease in persons, male or female, of the most fastidious delicacy, and is a real blessing to human kind. It ought always to be on hand.

N. B. A word to the wise.—Take no medicine but the above, and keep away from the quack Doctors, whose names appear in every public print, and then you take no mercury and save your constitution.

"We have much pleasure in bearing testimony to this safe and efficacious Medicine: we do this on grounds of strict impartiality, knowing several friends who have been cured by it. A fact that we know.

For sale by appointment at 188 Washington street, opposite the Marlboro' Hotel. A. Underhill, 38 Beekman st. New York. Jones & Hutchingson, corner of 7th and Chesnut sts, Philadelphia. Price 50 cents per bottle. n23

☞ TO THE PUBLIC.—Anacreon, the prince of ancient poets, the lover and the eulogist of the ladies, never forgot, in his odes, to mention of the teeth of pearl.

Ovid never for one moment lost sight of the "balmy breath" of his ladies, and his earnest recommendation to both sexes was ever to "keep your teeth clean, and your breath sweet." The ancients had the means of doing so. Anacreon's beauties were as noted for their flowing zones and their eyes of fire, as for their teeth of pearl and their breath of balm.

Ovid, who has taught us how to love and be loved, laid more stress upon the teeth and breath, than any other point—and verily these precepts are worthy of our practice.

How many matches have been broken off—how many amantes separated—how much misery caused by the single fault of a bad breath.

I once heard a lady sing, and most divinely. Her voice was clear, full and melodious, her tones superb, but the air beyond endurance.

Who does not wish to have this defect remedied? What lady does not wish to be blessed with the "teeth of pearl and the balmy breath," so noted by the divine Anacreon? What gentleman does not wish to be in every wish agreeable to the ladies?

THE REMEDY IS IN YOUR OWN HANDS—Dr Palmer's Diman Pearl Tooth Powder and Brushes is offered as a remedy whose effects are as certain as they are delightful.—This excellent tooth powder is not the invention of the present day. It has not been confined to modern times, and Dr Palmer has had the happiness of restoring, in its purity, the long lost article which was in such vogue in the days of yore. It is offered with the fullest confidence as to its merits, to which thousands who have used it can testify, and should any lady or gentleman who, by misfortune, have been afflicted with noisome breath or bad teeth, make one trial of its virtues, and not feel perfectly satisfied of its efficacy, then "Othello's occupation's gone."

The Diman Pearl Tooth Powder and Brushes is no modern quackery. It requires no puffing, no paragraphing, to render it uses as general as its effects are delightful. The ingredients are of a nature which cannot injure, and must beautify the teeth and sweeten the breath. The certificates of many of the ablest medical practitioners of this country will testify to the fact, and the innumerable recommendatory letters, from ladies and gentlemen who have used it are sufficient guarantees for its worth.
